

Counting Atomic Bomb Survivors

On August 6, 1945, the United States detonated the world’s first atomic bomb on Hiroshima. Three days later, on August 9, the U.S. detonated a second atomic bomb on Nagasaki. There is no precise record of how many people were killed.

